Georgia CTSA
Georgia Clinical & Translational Science Alliance

One Georgia: Advancing Health Equity Amidst a New Normal

SAVE THE DATE March 31- April 2, 2021

Research — Policy — Practice

Georgia CTSA's Community Engagement 5th Biennial Forum

Who: All who have a desire to improve the community health in Georgia through partnerships and collaborative efforts, including Community-Based Organizations, Academic researchers, and public health/medical professionals

What: 5th Biennial Statewide Forum to highlight advances in community health, learn from each other about our collective potential, and plan action steps to achieve collaborative efforts that reflect the art and science of achieving optimal community health through research, policy, and practice

Where: Central Georgia Technical College, Macon, GA*

Features: Content experts, poster presentations, breakout sessions on research, policy, and practice to improve the health of Georgia communities

More information: georgiactsa.org/community/community-health-matters-forum

As we monitor the COVID-19 path, we will follow guidelines from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and are prepared for virtual convenings. If necessary, our Forum will be virtual.*

EMORY UNIVERSITY · MOREHOUSE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE · Georgia Institute of Technology · UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA